

MISSISSIPPI HAS THE YELLOW FEVER

Nine Slight Cases and One Said to Be Serious.

BEEN THERE ABOUT A MONTH

Twenty-Five New Cases at New Orleans and Only Two Deaths Yesterday—Everything Working Smoothly. Surgeon White Made a Colonel.

New Orleans, August 17.—Nine cases of yellow fever have been discovered at Mississippi City, Miss., within three miles of Gulfport, the terminus of the Gulf and Ship Island Railroad. Fever has existed there since before July 20th, when the announcement was made here. It is in the family of Major Gee of Carrollton, who stopped in New Orleans on his way to Mississippi. Troops have drawn a cordon around the infected district.

There are but 25 cases reported in this city up to noon today and two deaths. An immense amount of wire screening is arriving daily.

Surgeon White has been made a colonel on the staff of Gov. Blanchard and everything is now moving along without the least bit of friction.

One man refused to have his parents' room screened and a quarantine guard will be kept about the house.

OUT UNDER BOND.

Emanuel Montell, Arrested by United States Authorities, Now Free.

Emanuel Montell, the Cuban who for several years conducted a small store and cigar factory at the corner of South University and East Depot streets, this city, and who was arrested a few weeks ago by instruction from the United States authorities upon a charge of manufacturing cigars without affixing the United States revenue tax stamp, has been released upon a bond of $125 and will be a free man until the next session of the United States court.

Montell is now in this city. He has accepted a position as traveling representative for N. Lopez, a cigar manufacturer of Ocala, and is working his line here. He states that he is enjoying a good trade, but is very much concerned about his predicament in the United States court.

When seen by a representative of The Sun Thursday Montell was neatly dressed and presented a very good "front." He will no doubt do well with his new line.

"Me no know me do wrong make cigars and sell boys without stamp," remarked Montell, in speaking of the offense of the law for which he is now held. "Me make fine cigar and sell two for five cents and three for five cents to boys (meaning people at home) and me no know me do wrong."

Montell will evidently have it impressed upon his mind that he did do wrong before the government will have finished with his case.

HAD A FINE MEETING.

Historical Meeting of Kirby Smith Chapter Was Fine.

The historical meeting of Kirby Smith Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, which was held at the home of Mrs. H. H. McCreary Thursday afternoon, was well attended, and proved a most enjoyable affair.

The program was well selected and admirably rendered, and those present were deeply interested in the proceedings.

Mrs. E. G. Richardson of South Carolina, recently arrived and almost recently married, was the honorary guest of the chapter, and had the pleasure of meeting a great many ladies.

Delicious refreshments were served during the evening, and altogether the affair was a most delightful one.

Prof. Kellum Here.

Prof. J. G. Kellum, secretary of the Board of Control, is spending a day or two here as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Alderman. Prof. Kellum is a citizen of Alachua county, and was for years one of the most efficient teachers in the county. He was last term principal of the Gainesville Graded and High School but resigned his position before the close of the term to accept a position as chief clerk in the House of Representatives of the Florida Legislature. He was elected to the secretaryship of the Board of Control after the adjournment of the Legislature and has held that position with credit and ability. Prof. Kellum expects to return to Tallahassee today.

Thousands of Women ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that It Really Does Make Sick Women Well

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatment for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished its widespread results for good?

Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructive ever discovered to act directly upon the uterine system, positively curing disease and displacements and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration, or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Anyway, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

The Larkspur.

Great vigilance has to be exercised by the antiquarian painter. This was demonstrated by Sir Laurence Alma-Tadema's picture "The Finding of Moses." Looking at the picture, a well known botanist examined with admiration the painting of the lifelike larkspurs which form the foreground, and then, turning toward the artist and congratulating him on the successful rendering, pointed out that larkspurs were of a comparatively recent growth. The painter laughed as he replied, "So I thought, until dried specimens of them were discovered in some of the recently explored royal tombs of Egypt."

Fishy.

Mother (reproachfully, to her small son)—Jimmie, where have you been all afternoon?

Jimmie (uneasily)—At Sunday school, mamma.

Mother—Then how is it you are wet and smell so of fish?

Jimmie (in desperation)—Well, you see, I've been studying about Jonah and the whale, and—well—I guess it came off on my clothes.—Harper's Weekly.

Lack of Perception.

"Dat dog o' mine," said Erastus Pinky, "keeps on a-tryin' to whup ev'ry four footed critter dat comes down de road."

"He must be a fighter."

"No, suh. He ain' no fighter, but he don' seem able to recognize de fark."—Washington Star.

The Place For Him.

"Notwithstanding what you say about Kraftie," said Goodart, "he seems to be a loyal fellow. He appears to keep in with his friends."

"He should be kept in with them," replied Crabbe. "Most of his friends are in jail."—Philadelphia Ledger.

SEAWEED AS FOOD.

When Dry It Is Richer Than Oatmeal or Indian Corn.

Seaweed is eaten on the coasts of Scotland and Ireland in vast quantities and, though unpalatable and flavorless, is at times the chief food of the poorest.

When dry it is richer than oatmeal or Indian corn in nitrogenous constituents and takes rank among the most nutritious of vegetable foods.

To prepare seaweed for the table it should be steeped in water to get rid of the salt with which it is impregnated, and a little carbonate of soda removes the bitter taste, which to some palates is most disagreeable. It should then be stewed in milk or water till mucilaginous and is best flavored with vinegar or pepper.

Fungi are almost everywhere largely eaten, though in England less attention is paid to them than they deserve, and few kinds appear at table.

A curious error is to suppose that fungi are eatable and toadstools poisonous. No such line of demarcation exists nor, strictly speaking, has the name toadstools any precise meaning.

Very many fungi are edible, and the common agaric usually eaten in England is not the most palatable and wholesome. Few foods are more savory, and none are greater favorites than well cooked fungi, and the souls of vegetarians yearn for them.—Pearson's Weekly.

THE PIE HABIT.

It Is Mainly Confined to Those Born in This Country.

Pie is consumed chiefly by the native Americans. Foreigners eat very little of it. A German, for example, might eat three pies in a year, while a good Yankee would consume as many in a week. The English, the Italians and the French are small pie eaters. The English eat plum pudding, and the Italians like fruit. New England and the middle states constitute the area of greatest consumption, but the pie belt extends far beyond that, as pie is extensively eaten all through the west. Pie is eaten much more generally in the north than in the south. Chicago is a great pie center. St. Louis is not so good. Milwaukee also ranks low. One would not think that there are means for ascertaining the facts in regard to pie consumption, but I have gathered statistics on the subject during the last two years which enable me to compute with reasonable correctness the consumption of pies in every state in the Union. Pies are made in greater variety than formerly, and the supplies are brought from greater distances—in fact, from all parts of the world. The season of pies made of green fruit has been prolonged, and pies are made of canned fruit the year round.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Run the Hole Out of Town.

A lecturer recently told of a Russian whose methods of achieving results were not according to the usual code. The Russian had a well in his front yard which he concluded to fill up. He began digging a hole by the side of the well, throwing the dirt from the new excavation into the well.

"In the course of time," said the speaker, "the old well was filled, but there was a hole alongside as big as the first. The Russian went farther away and dug another hole to fill the second. He continued this process of digging one hole to fill the other until he literally ran the hole out of town."

Health and Money.

There is this difference between those two temporal blessings, health and money: Money is the most envied, but the least enjoyed; health is the most enjoyed, but the least envied, and this superiority of the latter is still more obvious when we reflect that the poorest man would not part with health for money, but the richest man would gladly part with all his money for health.

Suggestive.

"Gee whizz!" said George for the twentieth time. "It makes me mad every time I think of the $10 I lost today. I actually feel as if I'd like to have somebody kick me."

"By the way, George," said the dear girl dreamily, "don't you think you'd better speak to father this evening?"—Philadelphia Press.
